FEATURES

Skye is pleased to announce a collaboration with Weather Display, who have incorporated a configuration for the DataHog in their very popular 'weather station software'. The software is available as a download from their website www.weather-display.com. You will also need to purchase a very inexpensive utility from Skye for the Weather Display software to run. The Skye utility 'grabs' a data string every 10 seconds & creates a file for weather display to capture.

The Weather Display Software has a wealth of features, and there is also the possibility of purchasing an 'add-on' for 'live display' on your website.
